¹ Part A of Annex 11 lists high- and medium-risk A goods posing a known threat, that require a phytosanitary certificate and are subject to 100% checks on import (except where reduced checks are applied).

Part B of Annex 11 lists those medium-risk B goods that require a phytosanitary certificate, as they pose a potential threat, but with insufficient evidence currently to categorise in Part A or Part C of Annex 11. These are subject to 1% checks on imports.

Part C of Annex 11 includes a list of low-risk plant products which are not subject to plant health controls, such as fruits of banana and pineapple.

² Scotland will apply the same inspection frequency rates.

³ These fees are based on current APHA fees. We are currently consulting on proposed changes to the fees and so these may change. Costs for Scottish import fees can be viewed here.
