

Subject: Prepare for 1 January 2021; register on PEACH & eDomero

Text:

Remember, if you are trading in plants and plant products with the European Union (EU) from 1 January 2021 you will need to register on PEACH, for import notifications, and eDomero for export notifications, if you have not already.

How do I register?

- If you are importing from the EU you can find out more information on the registration process including how to open a PEACH account and support.
 - You can register for a PEACH account here.
 - You can find a PHSI Imports video tutorial here.
 - You can find a HMI Imports video tutorial here.
 - You will need a Government Gateway account as part of your registration process. Further information on how to set one up can be found as you progress through the PEACH enrolment process.

- If you are exporting to the EU you can find further information on the registration process, including support on this process.
 - You can find user guidance here.
 - You will need a Government Gateway account as part of your registration process. Further information on how to set one up can be found as you progress through the eDomero registration Process

Which plants and plant products require pre-notification from 1 January?

Guidance on the requirements for importing and exporting plants and plant products from the EU from 1 January, including detail on high priority plants and plant products, can be found here:
